

Every notice, every language, with a record.

A safety notice reaches every worker on site in the language they read, and you get a timestamped, printable record of who confirmed it. Workers sign in with a phone number: no work email, no app store, no IT ticket.

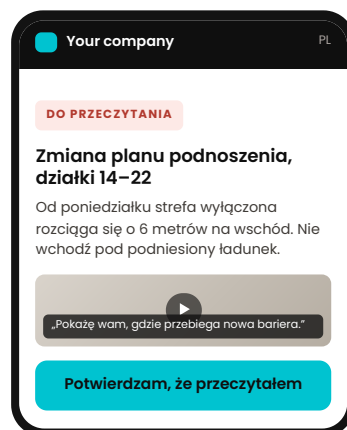

WHAT IT DOES

- ✓ Phone-number login. A worker types their mobile and a texted six-digit code. No email address is needed to add anyone; a sign-in lasts 30 days.
- ✓ Translated on publish. You write one notice in English. Every worker receives it in their own language, video captions included. They choose their language once.
- ✓ Confirmed receipt, with the record. Must-reads need a tap to confirm, offered only once the whole notice has been on screen. You get who has, who has not, a printable per-worker record and a CSV export, with nothing behind a paid reporting add-on.
- ✓ A whole site on in one break. Print a join card with a QR code and pin it on the welfare cabin door: about 20 seconds a worker. Set a leaving date and access is revoked.
- ✓ Reporting back from site. A photo, a sentence and a location in under a minute, written in the worker's language and translated on arrival.

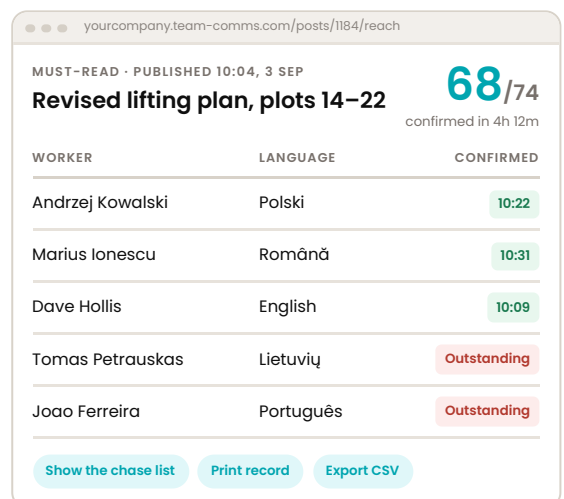

The join card

Scan, type a number, pick a language. No app store.

The translated notice

Published once in English. Read in their language, captions and all.

"Which of your sites has the most languages on it right now?"

Thirty minutes, on a real phone, with your site manager in the room. We publish a notice from your world, it lands in Polish, and we print the record.
